Teachers: Allison Cole and Marcy Gunn

During our unit on Community Helpers we asked parents if they would come in to talk about their jobs. We had a barber and nurse come talk about the tools they use to do their jobs and how they help the community.

Phenix City Early Learning Center Pre-K #1-9

Donuts for Dads

Dads, Uncles, Grandfathers and other Male figures were invited to the school to spend quality time with their pre-k child. Table activities were provided to encourage conversation among adults and children. Paper and crayons were provided for the parents to write a note to their child. The parents were given toothpicks and marshmallows to be used to work with their children to create structures while engaging in conversations.
